CLUBDOM

Memphis women may well be proud of the Nineteenth Century club this winter, for, when its doors are formally thrown open on Wednesday morning. Oct. 1, at the first meeting of the fall, for the officers and directors, it can truly be acclaimed one of the most beautiful, as well as one of the most influential of women's clubs in the South.

influential of women's clubs in the South.

All through the summer painters and decorators have been at work remodeling and rearranging the interior of the club, and in their midat, cleverly and dexteriously wielding paint brushes, several of the most promise members and officers of the club work. It is said that the beautifully enameled woodwork in the reception hall is the work of these ladies. Is it any wonder that the Nineteenth Century club ranks among the highest woman's organizations in the South, with officers and members who so enthusiastically share in anything that will help to make it more beautiful, or more progressive?

The reception hall of the club is now beautifully finished in the gleaning white woodwork, with walls done in a handsome colonial pattern of gray and plok. But dearest of all to feminine hearts is the tea room, with its draperies of French blue, wicker furniture, soff blue rigs, and the gleam of the while wood work as a background. Here the receptions will be held during the year, and a series of afternoon tens also are planned for the winter's social activities.

The officers and directors of the club planned for the winter's seem the club will hold their regular monthly meeting on Wednesday morning, Oct. 1, at 10 o'clock. Dues for the year 1918-20 should be paid Oct. 3. Notice of withdrawal from the club should be presented in writing on or before Oct. 3. As the swimming pool is closed for the season, all bathing suits must be called for either Monday or Tuesday of next week.

alled for either Monage, and of com-est week.

Chairmen of departments and of com-nittees are asked to immediately send a copy of their programs for the year to the chairman of the year book com-mittee, Mrs. C. A. Weathers, 1219 Good-mittee, Mrs. C. A. Weathers, 1219 Good-bar place.

The first regular meeting of the entire membership of the club will be held on Wednesday, Oct. 15.

A "haryest luncheon" on Nov. 2 will mark the beginning of the delightful weekly luncheons, which proved such a success last year. Mrs. Randolph Chears, to whom the credit for the success of the idea is due, will again be chairman of the luncheon committee this year. She is to be congratulated upon having secured the assistance of Miss Beaste Murphy for the season.
